Distributor's notes

About the Winery:

Vinos de la Tierra de Castilla is a PGI, whose wines come from Castilla-la-Mancha, Spain. Protected Geographical Indication (PGI) are distinct regimes of geographical indications within legal frameworks ensuring that only products genuinely originating from that region are allowed in commerce to be identified as such. The European Union rules govern the production of wine in Spain.

All wines at Vina Cerron meet and surpass the minimum requirements stipulated by all governing bodies, thus they have all obtained the 'Vinos de la Tierra de Castilla' appellation.

About the Wine:

Expressive bright red color with notes of cherries, chocolate and spices on the nose; juicy fresh red fruit with a layer of spice goes great with tapas and BBQ.
