Distributor's notes

About the Winery:

From the heart of Provence on Julian Faulkners family estate, Jules wines offer quality and originality. The Jules wine collection remains driven by Julian's passion for finding gems in unlikely places and breaking free from the standard categories of price and style.

Introduction

Dry and fruity, this rosé seduces by its aromatic expression, elegance and freshness. From the heart of Provence, on Julian Faulkner's family estate, this rosé offers the aromatic quintessence of Cinsault, Cabernet, carignan, and Grenache, and a careful balance between character and elegance.

Climate

After a historically dry year, 2018 was marked by long heavy rains until the summer. It was the year of the winemaker. It took a lot of rigor to control the explosive mildew, alas a hailstorm ravaged part of the vineyard. But all the efforts made took full advantage of the plots saved. The uninjured grapes were able to wait for their full maturity.

Tasting Notes

A clear peachy hue. The nose carries zesty aromas of lychee and pomelo. The mouthfeel is initially fresh followed by a feeling of roundness, followed by a long fruity aftertaste of pears and melons.

Meal Suggestion

Mullet, appetizer, Provencal dishes, vegetable stew.
